BIBLE SCHOOL A FEATURE

State Christian Missionary Convention Gives Large Attention to Teaching Function.

One of the most important features of the state convention of the Christian church which meets in Ada June 10-13 will be that of the Bible school. H. S. Gilliam, the state superintendent of this department has arranged a most excellent program for Wednesday afternoon, June 12.

Aside from this there will be conferences every morning of the convention from 8:15 to 8:45. Every phase of the Bible school will be discussed. One unique feature is the awarding of the "Gilliam Cup" at 3:30 Wednesday, in the teacher training contest. Another very enthusiastic moment is the awarding of the Front Rank Penant to all schools in the state which measure up to the standard of service. Those schools which are not abreast of the modern day Bible school work are made to feel uncomfortable and are stimulated to undertake the work in a more systematic, educational way.

G. LYLE SMITH, El Reno, Prominent Oklahoma Pastor.

The Roff Bible school is planning to come up 100 strong on this day of the convention. They have arranged for a special train. Mr. Gilmore, the superintendent, although a busy banker, is giving a great deal of time and thought to his school and has built up one which is not surpassed by any other one in Oklahoma.

The music of the Bible school period is in charge of C. B. James the pastor at Roff. Something inspiring in the way of song may be looked for.

This Bible school part of the state convention is one which no teacher or worker in this department of church activity can afford to miss.

Church of Christ.

STRAY TOPICS FOR LIT. THE OLD NEW YORK

New York, June 1.—A new order, which bears the somewhat mystifying name of the Excellent Order of the Knights and Ladies of Ehud, was founded in Orange, N. J., the other day, through the efforts of the Rev. Dr. William A. Frye, pastor of the Orange Methodist church. It is safe to say that before the Rev. Dr. Frye had delivered his opening sermon at the meeting at which the order was founded, but few, if any, of those present had even the remotest idea who Ehud was. Dr. Frye, himself a left-handed man, had called together a meeting of left-handed men and women, for the purpose of forming an order of the Left-Handed. He explained in his opening sermon that, according to the Bible, Ehud was the first left-handed man of note on record. Ehud, who was a Benjamite, was sent by the Jews to bear tribute to King Eglon, the oppressor, Ehud, being left-handed, cleverly made use of his peculiarity to become the deliverer of his people. While extending his right hand to the king, he drew his sword with the left hand and plunged it into the king's breast, killing him instantly.

Dr. Frye delivered his left-handed sermon with such enthusiasm that he convinced his left-handed audience that left-handedness was really the chosen people of the Lord and represented the element of progress, originality, inventiveness and daring in society, government and religion. He claimed that it was no disgrace to be left-handed and that left-handed people had a perfect right to be proud of their peculiarity which enabled them to depart from ruts and commonplace things. After the prospective knights and ladies had sung a left-handed hymn composed by Dr. Frye, the latter distributed to them certificates of membership in the Excellent Order of the Knights and Ladies of Ehud.

The capture, the other day, of a "Humpback Whale" on the sandy beach at Arverne, L. I., ought to furnish valuable advertising material to the real estate boomers of that section. Sailing, bathing and fishing have been the chief attractions so far offered to the prospective buyers of bungalow lots along the Long Island shores. If whaling can be included in the list it would undoubtedly make the offers a great deal more attractive. The whale in question had evidently been a little too eager and greedy when hunting for food and had given no thought to the dangers of the tide. When the tide receded he was stranded on a sand bar and there he was spied in the early morning by a New York brewer, who owns a bungalow on the Arverne beach. With the assistance of several "life-savers" the beer manufacturer lassoed the whale, hauled him on the beach and there killed him with knife stabs.

One of the numerous pawnbrokers on Second Avenue had a sad experience last week, sad in more than one respect. He lost $250, several promising customers and a few other things, including a piece of one finger and a small portion of his nose. The last mentioned loss he could well afford, but what hurt him most was the loss of the $250 in cold cash. The only thought from which he can draw any consolation is that the loss would have been even more deplorable, had it been twice as great.

One day last week a young woman visited the pawnshop and asked for a loan of $250 on a parrot which she offered securely housed in a large cage. She told the proprietor of the shop a hard-luck story which would have moved a heart of stone and obtained the $250, after she had promised to call for the parrot within a week and to pay extra for his food. Scarcely had the young woman left after an affectionate farewell to her parrot, when the bird went on a rampage. He began to scream language unfit for publication and to sing ragtime songs of an unspeakable character. When customers came into the shop Polly began to abuse them, calling them the most insulting names and telling them to "beat it." When the pawnbroker tried to pacify the bird by offering him food, the contrary and ungrateful fowl snapped at the man's nose and nipped a piece out of it. During the night he made so much noise that all the neighbors complained. A postal card was promptly mailed to the owner of the parrot, requesting her to call at the shop. The card did not reach her in time, however and not until a day later did she come to the shop. The pawnbroker insisted that she should take her bird back, but she said she did not have the money to redeem the bird. The pawnbroker, for the first time in his life, did not insist upon the return of the loan and interest. All he wanted was to get rid of the bird and his wish was fulfilled.

To a certain justice of the peace in Yonkers came a young couple the other day, presented a marriage license and asked him to tie the knot which only death or the divorce court can undo. The J. P. was willing and in a short time the ceremony was finished which made the two young people man and wife. The young man paid the fee, but made no effort to leave the premises. Finally the J. P. became nervous and asked the young benedict what else he could do for him. Then the young man frankly confessed that he had been educated in the belief that no marriage ceremony was binding unless the person who tied the knot implanted a kiss upon the lips of the bride. The J. P., who is unusually bashful for a man of his age and profession, became alarmed and tried to convince the young man that the ceremony was perfectly binding without the kiss. But the young man, who wanted to be sure of his bride, insisted and finally the J. P., blushing furiously, gave in and chastely kissed the pretty bride.

The Chief of Police of Lodi, near Hackensack, N. J., is evidently not a back shot with the revolver and his friends are poking a great deal of fun at him just now on that account. The other morning, just about dawn, he was awakened by a noise in his neighbor's yard. Looking through the window of his bed room the chief saw a bold burglar in the act of climbing a ladder to the bedroom window of the neighbor's house. The chief reached for his trusty weapon and, aiming carefully, he fired a shot at the audacious burglar. The latter, however, escaped not only with his life but also his person and disappeared in the dusk. But the bullet, nevertheless, had claimed a life. Next morning there were great lamentations in the neighbor's family when it was found that the children's pet goat, which had been sleeping in the yard, had been killed by the bullet intended for the burglar.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK

Washington, D. C., June 1.—The Republican National Committee will meet in Chicago early in the week to make up the temporary roll of the national convention. The function of this body is always important, because it decides in advance who are to have seats when the convention is called to order. The work is especially important this year, because at least one-third and possibly one-half of the delegates will be contested.

The last of the delegates to the Republican national convention will be selected Tuesday. On that day the six delegates-at-large from Ohio will be named by the state convention at Columbus and on the same day South Dakota will select her ten delegates by the primary system. The South Dakota primaries also will embrace the selection of the democratic national convention delegates, the expression of preference for United States senator and the nomination of state tickets by all parties.

The week will be one of unusual activity in the democratic camp. State conventions for the selection of delegates to the national convention at Baltimore will be held in Minnesota, North Carolina, Louisiana, Idaho, Arkansas and Nevada.

The republicans of West Virginia will hold a state-wide primary Tuesday for the nomination of candidates for governor and other state officers and the selection of seventeen new members of the state committee.

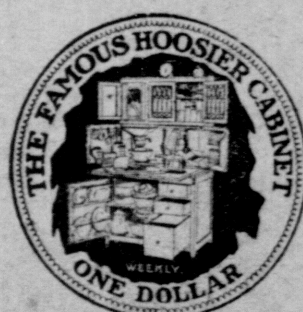

The Minnesota legislature will convene in extra session Tuesday to consider and act upon a state-wide primary act, a corrupt practices act and reapportionment.

The battleship Arkansas, the largest completed dreadnought in the world, will undergo her trials on the Rockland course, beginning Tuesday. The elimination trials that will determine the make-up of the American teams in the Olympic games at Stockholm next month will be held Saturday. The Eastern tryouts will take place in the Harvard stadium at Cambridge and the Western tryouts at Chicago. On the same day the final competitions to determine the personal of the Canadian team will be held in Montreal.

At a meeting to be held in Ottawa Tuesday a committee will be organized to co-operate with the committee from the United States and Great Britain in arranging for a celebration of one hundred years of peace between Canada and the United States.

Important conventions of the week will include the Northwestern Development congress at Seattle, the Presbyterian General Assembly of Canada at Edmonton, the annual convention of the American Medical Association at Atlantic City, the annual convention of the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' Association at St. Louis, the annual convention of the International Association of Factory Inspectors at Washington and the International convention of Wireless Telegraphy in London.

Other events and happenings that will contribute to the news of the week will be the unveiling of the Columbus memorial in Washington, the graduation exercises of the United States Naval Academy, the celebrations of the birthday anniversary of Jefferson Davis, and the trial of Harry K. Thaw's application for his release from Matteawan asylum on the grounds that he has recovered his sanity.

General Election in Belgium.

Brussels, June 1.—The campaign preceding the general election for the Chamber of Deputies, which takes place tomorrow, closed today with last appeals by the candidates through the newspapers. A flood of leaflets has also been sent through the post. The interest in the elections, judging from the attendance at the final meetings and the space devoted to the campaign by the newspapers, is unusually keen. The combination of the Liberals and the Socialists against the Clericals has helped to make the fight a very bitter one. The chief demand of the Liberals and Socialists is for unrestricted general suffrage and obligatory education.

TURPERS WIFE AND THEN KILLS SELF

Oklahoma City, Ok., May 31.—After eating his wife to death with a spade, L. Brock, a farmer, living a mile and a half southeast of Okemah, put his own throat with a razor. Both were dead when an officer reached the scene. The man's body was lying across that of his wife.

Brock is believed to have become frenzied over the subject of Socialism. He was a rabid Socialist and recently quit a job of work which paid him well because, he said, others who did no work were more prosperous than he. The family has since been in destitute circumstances. Five small children survive them.

ROCKEFELLER IS WORTH ALMOST A BILLION

New York, June 1.—The litigation which has brought about the examination of John D. Rockefeller as a witness to tell the present relations between Standard Oil and its former subsidiary companies, supposedly disassociated from it under the judgment of the United States supreme court, has involved also a quiet inquiry into the stockholdings and other forms of wealth of Mr. Rockefeller. The conclusion has been reached that John D. Rockefeller is now worth $900,000,000.

The lawyers who have undertaken the task of calculating just what Mr. Rockefeller is worth have come to one conclusion that is noteworthy: That since the "dissolution" of the Standard Oil trust under the judgment of the United States supreme court, interpreting the Sherman anti-trust act, the wealth of Mr. Rockefeller has grown by leaps and bounds. It is reckoned he is worth now fully $100,000,000 more than before the supreme court judgment took effect. That is due to the enormous increase in market value of the stocks of many former subsidiaries of the octopus.

Rockefeller's income may be estimated at $50,000,000 a year or $5,000,000 a month, or $1,538,461.5 a week, or $164,735.31 a day or $6,938.97 an hour or $114.40 a minute or $1.90 2-3 a second.

Mr. Rockefeller never has ventured to say what he is worth. He has given $174,500,000 to various institutions but that has not made any impression on the vast principal of his wealth, being merely gifts out of the income. Mr. Rockefeller's personal wealth, aside from his real estate, is estimated by the city of New York, for taxation purposes at $5,000,000. He pays taxes on that amount.

"NOTHING IN THE PAPER."

Frequently you pick up a local paper and after glancing at it wearily throw it aside, remarking, "Nothing in the paper this week." Did you ever stop to think what that phrase means? It means that in the week just passed, no misfortune has befallen anyone in our community, that no fire has wiped out a neighbor's worldly goods; that the grim angel of death has crossed the threshold of no friend; that no man driven by liquor, hatred or fear, has taken the life of a fellow human; that no poor devil, haunted by the past, or misdeeds of some other, has crossed the great divide by his own hand. So the next time you pick up a paper that doesn't announce a tragedy, give a little thanks instead of grumbling because there is no news. Or, if you would rather, shall we deal you up a choice morsel of scandal. Would your eyes grow round, and would you smack your lips with a relish if we were to write you up in a sensation? Do you think you have got the little secret all locked away from everybody?

Well, if you could look over the stories in the editor's little book you would in all probability see your

M. M. Gubin left this afternoon for St. Louis, where he will probably remain during the greater part of the summer. Mr. Barack has returned to Ada and will be in charge of the house as usual.

M. L. Cope of the Knox community reports that the web worms are doing considerable damage to the cotton of that part of the country, and the spread of the pest is giving the farmers some concern.

The Russell sisters will make their last appearance at the Empress this evening. This will be the last opportunity of seeing these vaudeville stars. Three pictures will constitute the remainder of the evening's program. One hour show.

Mr. A. C. Bray left this morning on a trip to Hannah. Mr. Bray has cultivated some land while attending the normal during the past term, and says he has two or three acres of oats that will rival the famous patch raised in the legendary past by the lamented Mr. Carter, if just a little more rain falls.

"In the Tide," is the subject of a fine picture at the DeSota this evening. The scene of the drama is in New York, and many places with which those who have been to the metropolis will be shown. Two other splendid pictures complete the program.

Postmaster Winn informs the News that after the carriers make their last round about 5 o'clock Saturday, no more mail is taken from the boxes until Monday. Hence, all who want to make sure about their letters leaving after that hour on Saturday, should remember to mail them at the postoffice.

This evening the Majestic will show three of the best pictures ever made. "The Eye that Never Sleeps,"

GRAY HAIR MAKES YOU LOOK OLD

Use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and Your Gray Hair Will Quickly Vanish.

Gray hair is a mark of age, and nothing that can be said as to its beauty will offset the disadvantages of this mark of age set upon your brow.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy darkens the hair and restores it to its youthful beauty. Our grandmothers and their grandmothers before them used sage and sulphur for darkening their hair. Nothing has ever been found more effective for this purpose than these two time honored remedies, but Wyeth, a modern chemist, has combined the two with other ingredients, which makes a delightful dressing for the hair, and which not only removes every trace of dandruff, but promotes the growth of the hair. It also stops the hair from falling out, and makes it beautiful.

All druggists are authorized to refund the money if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't neglect your hair and don't resort to old-time hair dyes. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist today, and notice the difference in your hair after a few days' use.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle. Special Agents, Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

SINGERS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

The state musical convention has been the scene of much interest today and large crowds have attended the sessions. A good part of the day was taken up with the business session during which the following officers were elected for the coming year.

Prof. Vincent of Mayes county, president; Prof. Maddox, Coal county, first vice president; Chas. Hughes second vice president; Prof. Pendleton, Carter county, third vice president; G. W. Coffman, Ardmore, fourth vice president; Prof. Beaman, Helena, secretary; Prof. Taylor, Marshall county, corresponding secretary; W. M. Parker, Chelsea, state lecturer; Geo. H. Kyme, Stigler, organist; Prof. McDold, Fort Gibson, Chaplain.

Visiting members today: Austin Taylor, Austin, Tex.; W. M. Parker, Chelsea; L. A. Ferguson, Atoka; Prof. Frazier, Johnston county; F. L. Collins, member executive committee Oklahoma Singing convention, Oklahoma. The afternoon has been devoted to chorus work. Another splendid program this evening and tomorrow. This organization contains among its members some of the best singers of Oklahoma, and the work here is exceptionally fine.

Henry M. Furman, presiding judge of the criminal court of appeals, has filed with the State Election Board as a candidate for re-election on the democratic ticket. It is not probable that he will have a democratic opponent. Judge Furman deserves to be re-elected without opposition from either political party. Let his nomination and election be unanimous.—Sallisaw Star-Gazette.

FELT BAD ALL THE TIME

Shellhorn Lady Suffered a Great Deal, But Is All Right Now.

Shellhorn, Ala.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Carrie May says: "A short time ago, I commenced to have weak spells and headaches. I felt bad all the time, and soon grew so bad I couldn't stay up. I thought I would die.

At last my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, and it helped me; so he got some more. After I had taken the second bottle, I was entirely well.

I wish every lady, suffering from womanly trouble, would try Cardui. It is the best medicine I know of. It did me more good than anything I ever used."

Cardui is a woman's tonic—a strengthening medicine for women, made from ingredients that act specifically on the womanly organs, and thus help to build up the womanly constitution to glowing good health.

As a remedy for woman's ills, it has a successful record of over 50 years. Your druggist sells it. Please try it. N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.
